INTRODUCTION

Each member of the World Trade Organization (WTO) is responsible for the obligations set forth in the Agreement on Technical Barriers to Trade (TBT Agreement). As of December 31, 1997, there were 132 WTO members (see Table I). The National Center for Standards and Certification Information (NCSCI), within the Office of Standards Services, is responsible for many provisions which relate to the establishment of a national inquiry point,¹ a standards information center, and other non-agricultural standards activities. Seventy-five WTO members had established inquiry points in 1997. This report summarizes TBT Agreement activities conducted by NCSCI during calendar year 1997.

INQUIRY POINT

Notifications

WTO members are required to notify the WTO Secretariat of all proposed government regulations and conformity assessment procedures that might significantly affect international trade. The Secretariat, in turn, disseminates the notifications to all members. As the official U.S. WTO/TBT inquiry point for information on standards and conformity assessment activities, NCSCI notifies the Secretariat of proposed U.S. Federal Government rules that might significantly affect trade. NCSCI also receives foreign notifications from the WTO Secretariat and disseminates them, along with supplementary information, to appropriate U.S. companies and industry groups. NCSCI responds to inquiries about foreign and U.S. notifications, provides copies of the proposed regulations, and arranges for fee-supported translations of foreign standards. Center staff also assist in developing comments on the impact on U.S. industry of proposed foreign regulations and transmits them to the foreign government concerned.

In 1997 the WTO Secretariat issued 796 notifications. Forty-three WTO members each reported at least one proposed regulation (see Table II.) The Netherlands had the most notifications (285). Nineteen other signatories - Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, Colombia, Denmark, European Community, El Salvador, France, Israel, Japan, Korea, Malaysia, Mexico, Philippines, Sweden, Switzerland, Thailand and the United States - each reported 10 or more proposed regulations.

An official in the Office of the U.S. Trade Representative (USTR) in Geneva received notifications from the WTO Secretariat and transmitted them directly to the United States. The TBT notifications, all of which are available in English, include the name of the country proposing the regulation; the assigned Goods/Technical Barriers to Trade/Notification (G/TBT/Notif.) number; a brief description of the regulation; and the final date for comments (see Appendix A). In mid-1997, notifications were made available on the WTO website

(<http://www.wto.org>), allowing Center staff to access the information more quickly and efficiently.

In order to provide wide access to this information by U.S. manufacturers and companies, all foreign notifications are published in a variety of publications, including the American National Standards Institute's (ANSI) Standards Action. Notifications are also sent to groups and individuals to serve their information needs and to allow them to disseminate this information to others. NCSCI maintains a computerized database on all TBT notifications and a telephone WTO hotline where up-to-date notification information can be obtained. The hotline number is (301) 975-4041.

Proposed U.S. Regulations

All proposed U.S. Government rules (mandatory standards or conformity assessment systems), including proposed revisions, are published in the Federal Register by the responsible Federal agency. Center staff regularly review the Register to identify those proposed regulations that might potentially affect trade, and therefore should be notified to the WTO Secretariat. Notices of these proposals are sent directly to the WTO Secretariat via e-mail.

To fulfill the obligation requiring WTO members to notify proposed local government regulations, NCSCI contracted with a private company to review state journals to identify proposed trade-related technical regulations. In 1997, proposed regulations from the 50 states were reviewed to determine trade significance. No proposals were identified.

In 1997, twenty-six proposed U.S. regulations were reported to the WTO Secretariat covering such subjects as water heaters, dietary supplements, plumbing products, fuels and fuel additives, human and veterinary drugs, and motor vehicles. The originating agencies for the proposed regulations are shown below. (See Table III for listing of specific products by agency.)

Proposed Foreign Regulations

The WTO Secretariat in 1997 issued 770 TBT notifications from countries other than the United States (see Table IV.) The foreign regulations covered a wide variety of products, including beverages, coffins, fireworks, gaming machines, ships, weapons and measurement equipment. A subject listing of foreign TBT notifications is contained in Appendix B.

Inquiries

NCSCI responded to 262 domestic and foreign written and telephone requests for TBT notification information (200 U.S., 62 foreign) in 1997. Many requestors asked for copies of more than one regulation. In addition, a number of requestors asked for general information on the TBT Agreement consisting of a list of the latest notifications, the annual report and a brochure describing NCSCI services and programs.

In 1997, the regulations most often requested concerned motor vehicles, electrical equipment and appliances, measurement instruments, data encryption, radio equipment, and telecommunication equipment. Inquiries are received from a variety of companies and organizations such as the American Home Appliance Manufacturers, Beckman Instruments, Gillette, W. L. Gore & Associates, and Maytag. The Center also receives requests from individuals who serve as consultants or seek information for their own use. The types of requests vary as widely as the products subject to notification. Some companies are interested in specific subject or product areas (e.g., telecommunications equipment, diesel vehicles, asbestos, lamps, and wooden furniture); others are interested in specific countries or regions (e.g., the EC, Finland, Canada, Israel, and Mexico).

The information is used by these groups as: 1) an alert system of proposals of interest to them; 2) a mechanism to review a proposal to ascertain its trade impact; 3) an opportunity to comment on a document; and 4) a method for verifying information received from subsidiaries or agents in a foreign country.

Translations

Upon request, NCSCI will ask for the text of proposed foreign regulations which are subject to notification. WTO members are required to supply copies of the regulations through their inquiry points. Of the 233 proposed regulations requested and received by NCSCI in 1997, 133 were in languages other than English. NCSCI coordinates a service to obtain, on request, an English translation of any proposed regulation in a foreign language. The cost of translation is paid by the requestor; if more than one request is received for the same translation, the cost is divided equally among requestors. The cost of a translation is determined by the number of words contained in the document and the price per 1,000 words charged by the contractor. No translations were requested in 1997.

Comment Handling

A major objective of the TBT Agreement is to allow exporters, government agencies, and other interested parties to comment on proposed foreign regulations which they believe would impede exports. NCSCI provides the text of proposed foreign regulations upon request and encourages the submission of comments if a regulation appears to create trade barriers. Industry representatives often become aware of proposed regulations through contacts with their foreign counterparts or subsidiaries, and are able to provide informal comments directly to the relevant country.

NCSCI has procedures to transmit comments, upon request, from U.S. organizations to appropriate foreign governments and coordinates any follow-up activity. In 1997, the Center received and processed formal comments from U.S. industry on a proposed Jamaican regulation concerning rum (G/TBT/Notif. 97.85) and a Thailand regulation on water purifiers (G/TBT/Notif. 97.118). Companies are free to comment directly to the foreign ministry responsible for the regulation and often do.

The Center also handles comments from foreign countries on proposed U.S. technical regulations reported to the WTO Secretariat. NCSCI staff forward comments to the appropriate U.S. Federal Government agency for its consideration. In 1997, comments were received from the EC on a draft Treasury regulation on frozen produce labeling (G/TBT/Notif. 96.269); USDA regulations on tomatoes (G/TBT/Notif. 97.686), and a proposed Department of Commerce regulation on fasteners (G/TBT/Notif. 97.609).

Comment Periods

To allow WTO members adequate time to receive the text of a regulation (and to have it translated, if necessary), review it, and prepare comments, the Committee on Technical Barriers to Trade recommends a comment period of at least 60 days. If the comment period is insufficient (e.g., due to late receipt of an English version or complicated technical issues), NCSCI staff will request that the issuing country extend the comment period. In 1997 Center staff received eleven requests from other WTO members requesting extensions of the comment period for proposed U.S. technical regulations. In general, few formal extensions of the comment periods are made. Most U.S. regulatory agencies and foreign ministries will accept comments if received within a reasonable time after the final date for comments.

The average length of the comment period² in 1997 was 49 days for U.S. regulations and 39 days for foreign regulations. The average length of the comment period allowed by U.S. agencies was as follows:

DOC	37 days	FTC	16 days
DOE	35 days	HUD	40 days
EPA	34 days	NHTSA	51 days
FDA	72 days	USDA	25 days

Comment periods for foreign regulations ranged from none at all to 90 days. The average number of days for comment period by country was: Australia, 60; Austria, 58; Belgium, 0; Benin, 0; Bolivia, 0; Brazil, 21; Canada, 52; Chile, 14; Colombia, 25; Costa Rica, 60; Cyprus, 3; Czech Republic, 28; Denmark, 41; EC, 54; Egypt, 40; El Salvador, 12; Fiji, 0; Finland, 52;

² Number of calendar days between the date the notification was issued by the WTO Secretariat and the closing date for comments.

France, 55; Germany, 43; Hong Kong, 29; Israel, 55; Jamaica, 53; Japan, 55; Korea, 46; Malaysia, 33; Mexico, 47; Netherlands, 39; New Zealand, 36; Norway, 63; Philippines, 57; Senegal, 60; Singapore, 90; Slovak Republic, 73; South Africa, 0; Spain, 34; Sri Lanka, 31; Sweden, 64; Switzerland, 55; Thailand, 18; Trinidad and Tobago, 12; and the United Kingdom, 46.

STANDARDS INFORMATION

NCSCI is the focal point in the United States for standards-related information. The Center, established in 1965 and mandated by the Trade Agreements Act of 1979, provides government, industry, and the general public with information on standards, technical regulations, conformity assessment procedures, and related activities that affect trade and commerce. A brochure describing NCSCI activities is available upon request.

NCSCI maintains a collection in microform, CD-ROM and/or hard copy, of engineering standards and specifications, test methods, regulations, certification rules, directories, reference books, and special publications. In 1997, NCSCI staff responded to requests from all over the world on the existence, source, and availability of standards and related documents. NCSCI also responds to trade-related queries regarding regulations or other requirements imposed by foreign countries that affect the export of U.S. manufactured products.

NCSCI serves as the U.S. member body to the International Organization for Standardization Information Network (ISONET) - a network of national standards information centers. ISONET is part of ISO's Committee on Information Systems and Services (INFCO) that sponsors meetings and workshops of interest to information specialists. Center staff participated in the May 1997 INFCO meeting and workshop on "Moving standards information into the next century - The best of marketing", held in Helsinki, Finland.

ANSI and the Organization of American States (OAS) hosted a workshop, in July, for Central and South American representatives on the need for automation in a standards organization. A Center staff member presented an overview of the responsibilities of inquiry points under the TBT Agreement to workshop participants.

In November 1997, a representative from the Center participated in a seminar on the TBT Agreement and standards information centers in Trinidad and Tobago. The seminar, hosted by the OAS under the Free Trade Area of the Americas, provided participants with an opportunity to learn more about establishing inquiry points under the TBT Agreement and other issues related to standards information.

NCSCI maintains an EC hotline to report on draft European Committee for Standardization (CEN) and European Committee for Electrotechnical Standardization (CENELEC) standards which may affect trade. The recorded hotline - (301) 921-4164 - is updated weekly and provides the subject/product areas, document number, and final date for comments.

RELATED PROGRAMS

The Office of Standards Services (OSS) provides technical support on non-agricultural standards-related issues. Office functions include: a) participation in standards-related conferences; b) technical assistance to the International Trade Administration of the Department of Commerce and the Office of the U.S. Trade Representative in developing proposals to enhance the TBT Agreement; and c) preparation of special reports on standards issues. 1997 activities included:

- continued participation by office staff in meetings of the Committee on Standards Related Measures to oversee implementation of the standards obligations under the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA);
- participation in the Asia-Pacific Economic Cooperation (APEC) standards and conformance subcommittee and the Free Trade Area of the Americas (FTAA) working group on standards and technical barriers to trade;
 - guidance to NIST standards experts assigned to foreign countries (Argentina, the European Union (Belgium), India, Mexico, and Saudi Arabia) and support to training programs of foreign groups from various industry sectors; (Standards-in-Trade program);
- coordinating the standards program of the Special American Business Internship Training program for Russia and the Newly Independent States;
- numerous presentations and speeches made by technical office staff regarding standards and international activities;
- liaison with the Industry Functional Advisory Committee on standards, which advises the government on standards-related policy issues;
- chairing the Interagency Committee on Standards Policy, which provides guidance to Federal agencies in the area of standards policy and implementation of the Office of Management and Budget Circular A119, Federal Participation in the Development and Use of Voluntary Standards; and
- fulfilling responsibilities assigned to NIST under the National Technology Transfer and Advancement Act (NTTAA) of 1998 (Public law 014-113). The Act directs NIST to provide a leadership role in coordinating the standards and conformity assessment activities of federal, state and local government agencies, and with the private sector to meet the needs of U.S. industry in the global marketplace.

CONCLUSION

NCSCI continues to work with U.S. industry to address standards-related trade questions and concerns to assure wide distribution of relevant notifications of proposed foreign regulations which might affect trade.
